ABOUT ME

I am wife to a self-proclaimed nerd, mother to an active 5-year-old boy, caretaker to two Siberian cats, on and off vegetarian, knitter with a sock obsession, chronic dieter, and lover of all things fantasy.

I began Tyrneathem nearly 10 years ago following a chemical burn injury at work. It has evolved as my life evolved.

ABOUT TYRNEATHM

Perhaps the one thing I'm most asked about is the site name. Tyrneathem is derived from the Gaelic language. Tyrn is "the children of" and athem means "dragons." Therefore, Tyrneathem means The Children of the Dragons. My husband and I share a passion for dragon artwork and lore, so we are the children of dragons!

Tyrneathem is a family-friendly site with a focus on reviews, giveaways, kids, crafts, and weight loss. Tyrneathem receives approximately 5,000 unique viewers per month. It rises to over 10,000 during the holiday months.
