About Me

I am wife to a self-proclaimed nerd, mother to an active 5-year-old boy, caretaker to two Siberian cats, knitter with a sock obsession, chronic dieter, and lover of all things fantasy. I began Tyrneathem nearly 10 years ago following a chemical burn injury at work. The focus has evolved as my life evolved.

About Tyrneathem

Perhaps the one thing I'm most asked about is the site name. Tyrneathem is derived from the Gaelic language. "Tyrn" is "the children of" and "athem" means "dragons." Though it is essentially a completely made up name, Tyrneathem would mean "The Children of the Dragons." My husband and I share a passion for dragon artwork and lore, so we consider ourselves the children of dragons!

Tyrneathem is a family-friendly site with a focus on reviews, giveaways, kids, crafts, and weight loss. Tyrneathem receives approximately 6,000 unique viewers per month.
